

TIANNA BRATCHER

Misoprostol Warning Label

Drug Facts
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● Between the concrete and a man's Nike, your mouth puddles with the slippery taste of iron. When consciousness leaves you, find comfort in death's approach</li><li>● You want to be a mother</li><li>● You cannot bear the thought of something tying you tighter to this world</li></ul>
Uses
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● As the sun turns toward finality, you watch bombs detonate. The wind replaced with bullets. As a child, you watched mothers long for their gone children. Funeral after funeral after birthday party. Children buried by limb or memory. Every animal endangered, including us. Every glass of water a gamble with cancer. You are not any better for choosing this path.</li><li>● In high school, a girl begs you for an excuse to not have sex with her boyfriend. Tell him you're on your period, you say, obviously. That won't work. I need something else. Blood, like no, is never enough</li></ul>
Warning
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● If nothing else, you would be a great mother</li><li>● Bleeding may occur for weeks or months. You might find yourself praying to murky tissue water for respite, a redo, an undo, for another chance to mother</li><li>● There are no dreams of children</li><li>● There still is no word for what you will feel when you flush the fetus</li><li>● You will begin naming every inanimate object you own</li></ul>
Do not use
